

Our Initiatives and Offerings for 2025/26

The LSESU Economics Society

Presidential Welcome

The LSESU Economics Society is one of the largest economics societies in the world, and this year, I am delighted to share lots of fresh events and opportunities that we have planned. Firstly, we are launching the inaugural Economics Ball at LSE. The Economics Ball will serve as a celebration of the incredible work of all those involved in one of the world's finest Economics faculties and will also provide a fantastic opportunity for sponsors to share their message.

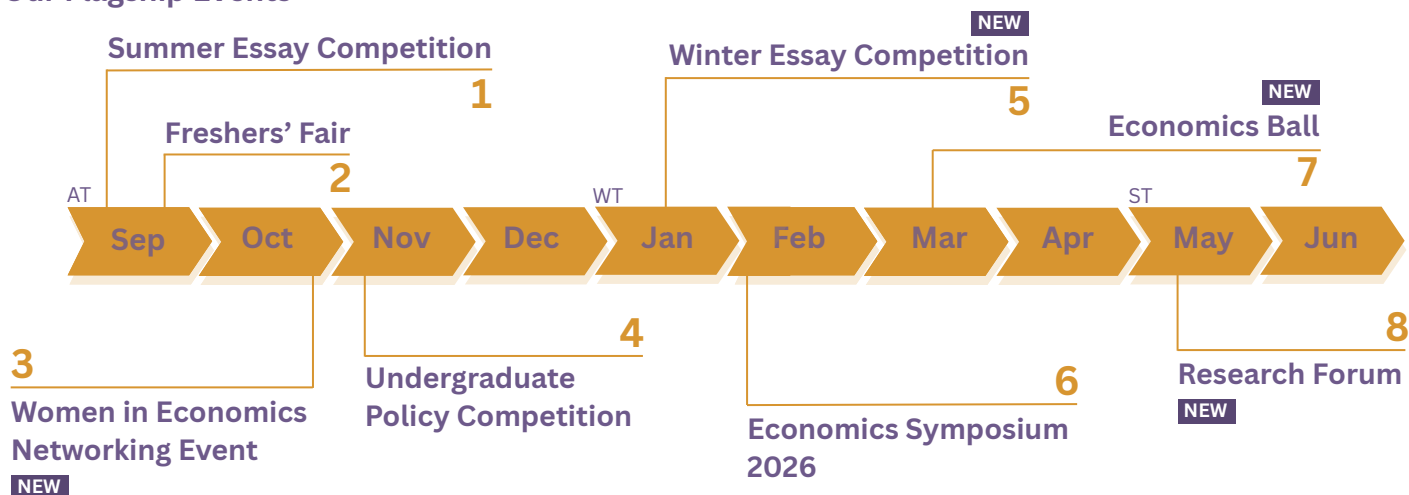

Furthermore, we aim to bring in more diverse speakers to complement our usual lineup, which has previously included Nobel Prize winners and the Chief Economist of the Bank of England. We have also established a social mobility initiative, which involves sending LSE 'delegates' to UK schools to share tips on applying to top universities, such as LSE. With your help, not only can we deliver a great partnership, but also real social change.

Rory Keeble

President of the LSESU Economics Society

Below is our prospective timeline for 2025/26, including our recurring programme, flagship events, and new initiatives.

Our Flagship Events

Our Weekly Programme

SEN CLUB

The Sen Club is a weekly discussion group that delivers an unparalleled diversity and calibre of speakers, from professional economists to international academics. Explore fresh perspectives on a diverse range of pertinent themes across economics and beyond in an informal, conversational setting.

FIRESIDE CHATS

The approachable and interactive 'Fireside Chat' series bridges the gap between theory and practice by inviting leading professionals from a variety of industries, including voices from our prominent partner organisations, to offer real insights into the applications of economics and the diverse career paths these can inspire.

Our Monthly Highlights

WORKSHOPS AND NETWORKING

Our hands-on workshops and networking events, led by specialists from our partner organisations, equip members with the practical tools and professional insights they need to navigate their future careers, whilst building confidence, competence, and meaningful connections across various industries.

SOCIALS

Whether it's a pub social, boat party, or joint quiz night, our socials (often in collaboration with other societies at LSE and beyond) offer a relaxed space to build friendships, expand networks, and bring together a vibrant community beyond the classroom.